About

The professionals at Certified Home Health Services provide the most comprehensive home health care program in Dutchess County. Our intake team is available to provide a smooth transition from the hospital or sub-acute setting to home care. Patients without a recent hospital stay are also accepted via a referral from their physician.

Management of chronic disease is an important part of the care provided. Our unique approach includes working with patients to set the health goals they wish to achieve while providing the necessary education and care required to reach those goals.

The focus of Certified Home Health Care is to:

- Provide short-term care from skilled and caring professionals
- Instruct and educate patients about medications
- Help communicate best practices for management of disease
- Ensure patient safety in the home environment

The Certified Home Health Services team consists of New York State registered and licensed nurses, physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech pathologists, registered dietitians and medical social workers as well as highly trained home health aides.

MidHudson Regional Hospital Certified Home Health Services is a member of the prestigious Home Care Elite™ Top 500 and is the most comprehensive home health care program in the Hudson Valley.
